The servants now recommended for an increase get grain Compensation allowance It is much better to continue the latter than to grant a permanent increase of pay The other Chattram servants to whom no increase is recommended will set up a clamour if only a few of the servants are promoted.

On the whole I am not in favour of increasing the pay of these men

I am disposed to agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Lafroy that the Daffedars and the other persons who are whole time servants and get no rations deserve an increase at the rate of one rupee each. ~~I do not know whether the above rule of one rupee~~ ~~to that of Nilgiris~~

I have some doubts as to the expediency of increasing Menial wages given in such institutions. The men in such places generally are not subjected to the regular discipline of regular Govt offices, and have other additional occupations to support them. They can hardly be regarded as full time Govt Servants. I have however no local experience, and if they have work enough to take up all their time, the increases may be given. Otherwise I should stick to the old rates.

Note by the Mysore Superintendent

No. 714
24-3-09
D1167
Rev 496-08

I beg to submit herewith a petition presented by the servants employed in the Tirupati Chattrams asking for promotion.

The servants who have signed the petition are the Cook, Paricharak and Devatarchane man of the Upper Tirupati Chattram and the Daffedar, Peons, Bapumalis & Jadmalis of the Establishment

The Cook was given promotion in 1905 and his pay is ~~Rs~~ 10/- He gets a daily ration of half a seer of rice with condiments. I am not prepared to recommend any increase of pay to him

The Paricharak was given promotion in 1905. His pay is Rs 7/- He gets Rs 2/- a month for carrying the Morchal when the God is taken in procession like the cook he is also entitled to rations. I am not prepared to recommend any promotion in his case.

The devatarchane mali's pay is Rs 4/— a month & he gets rations like the other servants. He gets Rs 2/— also for carrying the other Morchal. I don't think he need be given promotion.

The Jadmalis are not whole time servants and I cannot recommend them for promotion.

The other servants viz, Daffedar, Peons and Bagmalis were recommended for promotion by Mr Anantasami Rao in 1904 the Diwan re marked thus:— "I am not sure that the pay of peons requires increase. They have been long — and local people have been accustomed to local rates. There is no demand for it and I see no reason for forcing the increase on them".

Now there is a demand for promotion and good grounds are urged for seeking it.

The question of funds has to be con--sidered. The Peshkar said that when providing an annual saving of Rs 313-10-0 ostensibly for repairs the idea really was to have money available for granting promotions without asking for enhanced grant. It would be bad policy

to use up all this amount in granting promotions without providing for the repairs of the large buildings that we own at Tirupati. But as the pay of the peons
is inadequate I recom-mend that the increase of one Rupee long ago
proposed by Mr Ananta Rama Rao may now
be sanctioned. as shewn
below:—

	Present Pay-	Proposed pay
Daffedar	6-0-0	7-0-0
Peon	5-0-0	6-0-0
Do —	5-0-0	6-0-0
Do—	5-0-0	6-0-0
Do-	5-0-0	6-0-0
Bagumali	4-0-0	5-0-0
Do—	4-0-0	5-0-0

Even after providing Rs 84 a year for the promotions recommended
there would remain a sum of nearly ~~Rs~~ 230

for annual repairs. I believe out of this amount we have to meet the Travelling allowance of the Peshkar and a servant when they go to Mysore for presenting Prasadam on the occasion of H. Highness the Maharaja's Birthday. We may count upon Rs 150/- becoming available solely for repairs.

I recommend that the increase of pay proposed may be sanctioned.
